SUGGESTIONS FOR AUTHORS

The BCSP welcomes scientific communications on palaeoethology, prehistoric archaeology, anthropology and related disciplines while considering its principal subject matter to be prehistoric art. The public to which the journal is directed are the scholars and students, interested primarily in prehistoric art, all over the world. Because of this, it is advisable to present general studies rather than details of limited local interest. The full address of every contributor is given so that readers may write directly to them if they wish, and ask for further informations.

The papers sent for publication are separated into two sections depending on scopes and length. The longer papers go in the section Scientific Papers, while the shorter papers, or those dealing with only one subject or place are put in the Archive section.

The purpose of this note is to suggest some ways by which contributors may standardize the presentation of text and illustrations. The editorial staff tries to preserve the content and the spirit of the material submitted although it sometimes reorganizes papers for publication so that they conform to the BCSP system.

Two copies of the article should be sent, the text typed in double-spacing on one side only, numbered consecutively. The BCSP publishes papers in Italian, French and English; contributors are asked not to send papers in other languages, if possible. The papers should be accompanied by a summary of 10-15 lines, preferably in the three languages.

Authors are asked to limit themselves to the absolutely vital changes of printing errors when proof-correcting. The author will be charged for any changes in the text due to their modification of content, depending on the number of lines which have to be re-set. The authors are asked to keep a copy of the typescript to help them in proof-correction. If the proofs are not sent back to the editors by return mail post they will be printed as they stand.

The authors are responsible for the material which they supply in regard both to the information offered and the ideas expressed.

Terms in a language different from that of the text should be printed in italics (underlined in the typescript). It is preferred not to include figure references in the text; authors are requested to put the figure references in the margin of the typescript. The editors will plan the lay-out so that the figures are printed near to the relevant passage of text, or the references are given in the margin. Foot-notes should be kept to the absolute minimum and should be numbered progressively from 1 to n.

The bibliographical references in the text should consist of the author's name; the year of publication and the page, all in brackets; the bibliography is printed at the end of each article. All the works referred to are distinguished by the year of publication. When more than one work is cited for a particular author for the same year they are differentiated by letters, in alphabetical order.

The bibliographical references are set as follows:

1. For a book: surname, name of author, year, full title, name of the series, number of the volume, place of publication (edition), number of pages and of illustrations, e.g.:

ANATI, E.
1968 - Arte Preistorica in Valtellina, Archivi di Arte Preistorica, vol. I, Capo di Ponte (Edizioni del Centro), 174 pp., 81 figs., XXXII marg., ill., 2 maps.

2. For a paper: surname, name of author, year, title of paper, title of journal, volume number, pages, e.g.:

EDWARDS, R. & L. MAYNARD
1968 - Prehistoric art in Koonalda cave (Australia), BCSP, vol. IV, pp. 177-130, figs. 44-49.

The illustrations (photographs and drawings) should be sent in a format of no less than 18 x 24 cm and no more than 50 x 60 cm. The reduction and the number of illustrations will be arranged by the editorial staff. The author's name and the number for insertion in the text should be indicated on the back of each illustration. Each caption should be sent in duplicate, one copy attached to the illustration and the other on a page with the text. Maps and plans should have a scale and an indication of orientation; for the illustration of objects it is preferred to indicate the dimensions in the caption. Details of the find place and of the present location of objects should also be given in the caption, when possible.

We shall be grateful to the contributors if they follow these suggestions so as to avoid long exchanges of letters, to make the papers more complete and useful and thus offer the readers the most comprehensive and precise information possible.
